

On parade: Whites is a classic collection of roller blind fabrics from New House Textiles that includes sunscreen, blackout, low-allergy and moisture-resistant materials. From £68 for a 1.22m wide roller blind.

Utopia says: There is a choice of white on white designs, from simple opaques to classic stripes and elegant patterns, all giving a beautiful softly diffused light.

01989 740 684 | www.newhousetextiles.co.uk

On parade: Spiral Cellars offers a prefabricated range of wine storage basements for your home with LEDs to light up each step. To install, a hole is dug in the desired place, precast modules are inserted, and ventilation is fitted. This whole process only takes five days. From £14,500.

Utopia says: Owning a spiral cellar means you can store up to 1,870 bottles of wine in the best possible conditions. Access underground is through a discrete trap door with a flat handle.

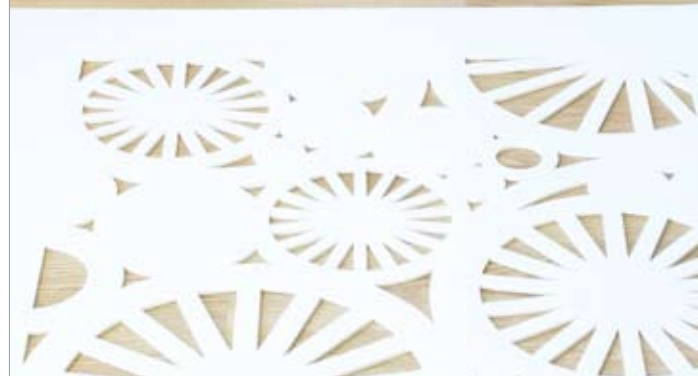

0845 241 2768 | www.spiralcellars.com

On parade: The New England Shutter Company now offers bespoke fabric-covered panels. A material of your choice will be hand-stitched within a wooden frame made of either cherry, maple, oak or painted tulipwood. Louvred shutters are also available covered with fabric, faux leather or suede. From £365/m².

Utopia says: If the textile is patterned, care is taken to line up the repeat at seams. If matching wallpaper is on the walls, the shutters can even be married up with it for a neat effect.

020 8675 1099 | www.tnesc.co.uk

On parade: The Peony rug from Michelle Mason comes in a choice of dark blue, pale blue, pink or a natural un-dyed cream. Available sized 80x90cm or in 1.2m and 1m diameters. From £350.

Utopia says: These highly decorative rugs are die-cut from 100% felted Merino wool, chosen for its sustainable and tactile qualities.

07776 234 571 | www.michellemason.co.uk